ANGORA'S CHANGES.

COMPLICATED SITUATION.

ALLIED CONTROL OPPOSED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 5.

Rafet Pasha dramatically announced the change in the Government to a meeting of Allied generals in which he had been invited to discuss admission of Kemalist gendarmes at Gallipoli Chanak and the neutral zones. The Allies were prepared to agree to this subject to allied control. Rafet Pasha declined to admit control in any form, but agreed to refer the matter to Angora. He added, after intimating his assumption of the governorship of Constantinople, he would respect the Mudan'a convention and recognise the allied occupation, but he would not admit interference with the control of internal affairs.

Meanwhile, acting on the advice of Rafet Pasha, the Administrative Council at Constantinople has met and unanimously decided to break off relations with the Constantinople Government and to carry on business in the name of the National Assembly to which the chiefs of the gendarmes and police had transferred allegiance.

LEADERS DIFFER.

The coup d'état is regarded as greatly complicating the situation. The late Government, though powerless, supplied useful machinery for the exercise of allied control, and the substitution of Chanyuistic Nationalist agents would not be conducive to smooth working relations with the Allies who must continue the control in the interests of public order and safety while the occupation lasts.

The Kemalist commissar of religious affairs has resigned and requested six months' leave as deputy. This seems to imply that the Kemalist leaders are not so unanimous as it has been thought regarding deposition of the Khalif.

ATHENS, November 5.

The newspaper Patris publishes a report, that the Turks are planning a surprise occupation of Gallipoli Peninsula during the change of allied ships in order to confront the Allies with a fait accompli.

NATURALLY.

PARIS, November 5.

A Constantinople telegram states that the Sultan has refused to recognise the legality of the Angora Government's resolution deposing him.

DEBTS SAFE.

PARIS, November 5.

An official Turkish statement denies that Angora intends to repudiate Turkey's debts or to abrogate the administration of the public debt.

ALLIES ASKED TO LEAVE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 6.

The Angora representative has handed a note to the Allied High Commissioners requesting immediate evacuation of Constantinople, declaring that allied military occupation will become useless and impossible now that the Angora Government has taken over the administration.

COMMERCIAL DISPUTES.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COURT.

NEW YORK, November 6.

The American section of the International Chamber of Commerce announces that the Chamber has perfected plans for the establishment of international commercial arbitration to settle commercial disputes independently of government agencies. The court will be administered from the headquarters of the Chamber in Paris under the chairmanship of M. Hermès, President of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce.

The court will be appointed by 28 nations, including Britain, France, the United States, Spain, Portugal, the Netherlands, Japan, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Poland and Argentina.

Normally its awards should be given within 60 days. Arbitration in disputes between United States traders and certain South American countries under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce has been declared a decided success.

EXILED KAISER MARRIED.

CEREMONY DESCRIBED.

WILLIAM II. AND HERMINE VON REUSS.

DOORN, November 5.

Beautiful spring-like weather favoured the ex-Kaiser's wedding. The civil marriage service took place at 11.30 in the Lodge, where Princess Hermine had slept, the Burgomaster reading the service. The bridal pair signed the register as "Wilhelm II." and "Hermine von Reuss."

They then went in procession to the castle. They accepted the gorgeously decorated stables lined by the household staff to the main Hall where the religious ceremony was performed by Dr. Vogel, Court Chaplain of Paderborn. The bridal pair sat on two crimson gilt chairs, draped with gilt covers and decorated with crowns, in front of the pulpit. Their relations were witnesses in four behind.

After the service a reception was held in the ex-Kaiser's study. Lunch followed. The ex-Kaiser and his bride sat at the head of an oblong table with guests on both sides. A silver model of St. George and the Dragon occupied the end opposite the ex-Kaiser. The centrepiece was a massive ornament two feet high engraved "W. I. R." The whole table service was of silver. Red roses were everywhere.

The presents include flowers from the Queen of Holland. The Junker Order of St. John, of which the ex-Kaiser is head, sent a souvenir explaining that poverty prevented an expensive present.

RUSSIA SEEKS PEACE.

TROTSKY'S DISARMAMENT PLANS.

BEIRUT AND THE STRAITS.

LONDON, November 5.

Interviewed by the Observer's Moscow correspondent, Trotsky declared that Russian territories were still invaded. Rumania occupied Bessarabia and Japan North Sakhalin, but Russia preferred negotiation to war and was ready any moment to renew her proposal for complete or partial disarmament. Russia had in mind an agreement for simultaneous mutual disarmament in conjunction with her nearest neighbours or through a world conference.

Referring to the Straits, Trotsky said Russia's intention was to prevent England from breaking through the Straits and thus avoid an otherwise inevitable clash in the Black Sea. Russia insisted on neutralisation of the Straits by international agreement and measures. Turkey should be entitled to possess an army and fleet to fortify the Straits.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

SIR ALGERNON WEST'S MEMOIRS.

As one of Gladstone's private secretaries and most trusted advisers, the late Sir Algernon West knew many secrets and could throw much light on the inner working of the Liberal Party machine. He has told a good deal in his most agreeable and entertaining "Private Diaries," which are published to-day (Murray, 18s. net), and very competently edited by Mr. H. G. Hutchinson. Sir Algernon, who died last year, aged 89, was, as Mr. Hutchinson says, "a Greville with a warmer heart," and there is nothing malicious or unkind in his recollections of the years between 1891 and 1898 which are contained in the volume.

His devotion to Gladstone was touching; his manners were of the courtliest. He practised some of the fashions of the old school long after they had gone out of vogue. Thus, at an evening party he always appeared with his opera hat under his arm, as we see hats carried by the heroes of John Leech's sketches in Punch. Making an afternoon call, he always brought his hat up to the drawing room with him. . . . As late as 1918 I recall his saying to me: "Of course you or I never saw anyone of our class in London smoking a pipe in the streets."

One of Sir Algernon's most curious disclosures is that Sir William Harcourt never believed in Home Rule or quite forgave Gladstone for committing the Liberal Party to it. Thus we are told:—
Mr. Gladstone said he thinks that Sir William Harcourt really hates Home Rule, as a Britisher who hates those whom he has ill-used.

PRaise for "DIZZY." Particularly interesting are Gladstone's own opinions as the politicians of that day. He has often been accused of complete want of sympathy with Disraeli, but in the Diaries he praises him as "the greatest wit he ever knew."

Gladstone had no admiration for the Earl of Balfour:—
At luncheon referred to the triumphant division of last night (on the first clause of the Home Rule Bill). I asked whether Arthur Balfour was not a very bad leader. "The worst tactician I ever knew," he said.

This will amuse a statesman who was at one time impeached for being so very clever a tactician. For Viscount Grey, Gladstone predicted a great future.

Mr. Gladstone thought Edward Grey a man of wonderful parliamentary instinct and power. He had tried to persuade John Morley not to return to political life for which he was not naturally fitted. Asquith he thought was a good adviser on a legal question, but where was the man who had the courage of his opinions?

Scattered through Sir Algernon's pages are not a few good stories. One of the most amusing is of the poet Wordsworth's penuriousness:—
Arthur Hallam said Wordsworth might have been a great philosopher or a great poet, but his poetry spoiled his philosophy and his philosophy his poetry. He was very penurious. He told Miss Martineau he always gave his friends tea, but if they had meat he charged them for it.

Another is of the 9th Duke of Bedford's—
Strange economies and stinginess combined with generosity. He once sent his wife and daughters to stay at a nephew's for a night on their way north, and wrote saying he could not imagine women who would give more trouble and enclosed a cheque for £500. The nephew said he did not mind how many visits they paid him on similar terms.

PHOENIX PARK MURDERS. There is a grim incident connected with the Phoenix Park murders, when Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke were stabbed to death by Irish "Invincibles."—
When Trevelyan came over to succeed Frederick Cavendish, Mrs. Trevelyan went to a window in the Lord Lieutenant's lodge, from which Spencer (the Lord Lieutenant) saw Cavendish and Burke murdered. On pulling aside the curtain there was something on the floor which Mrs. Trevelyan picked up, and which proved to be the coat of one of the murdered men, sliced, gashed, and bloodstained.

Queen Victoria figures in many of the episodes. There was a curious little misunderstanding between Gladstone and Queen Victoria, when he asked for an interview with her. She imagined that he wanted to propose to her the abolition of the House of Lords, though he really wished to resign. Mr. Gladstone was very cross about the Queen's wait of trust and confidence; whereas I thought the Queen might fairly resent his want of confidence. I told him that it was only Indigestion and Bileousness. You should not eat food of any kind when bilious, but take a full dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and drink plenty of water. That will cleanse the stomach, move the bowels and soon restore the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

reasonable that her Majesty, receiving such a message from her Prime Minister, should be apprehensive and nervous.

He would not give Sir Algernon permission to tell her confidential adviser, Henry Ponsonby, the facts. Sir Algernon, however, took the bit between his teeth and did so. The Queen when informed was much surprised and said she should be sorry in many ways. Henry Ponsonby said he did not know who else would have the authority to be (Mr. Gladstone) had over the extreme man in the Cabinet. Her Majesty agreed, and said some of them were troublesome.

At the final interview Queen Victoria was "kind," but Gladstone was most pleased by an affectionate letter he received from the Prince of Wales, the late King Edward.

M. C. L. FETE.

A RECORD SUCCESS.

PROCEEDS APPROACH $20,000.

As the worthiness of the cause and the hard work of the organisers richly deserved the charity garden fete held by the Hongkong Women's Guild and Ministering Children's League in the grounds of Government House on Saturday afternoon was a pronounced success. It is expected that the total sum realised will approach the record amount of $20,000. H. E. the acting Governor (the Hon. Mr. Claud Severn, C. M. G.) formally opened the function at 2 p.m., inspected a Guard of Honour furnished by the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps, and in the course of a brief speech spoke appreciatively of the enormous amount of work that had been done in connection with the fete.

Directly afterwards the stalls opened up for business, the sidewalks got going and the large open space at the back of Government House hummed with activity. So great was the throng that it was difficult at times to get a good look at the stalls and the M.C.L. people would be very well advised to look around for a much better pitch for next year's fair. A remarkable feature of Saturday's crowd was the large attendance of Chinese.

This was due to the effective publicity campaign carried out by the Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax, Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

Many and varied were the side-shows and great the enjoyment that the youngsters extracted from them. All those joyously uncertain enterprises in which the speculative instinct inter-poses to be demonstrated in cash were investments first asserts itself here there for the benefit of the youngsters. There was the fairy well, the bran pie and the goldfish pond and several of them ran dry all too soon. Scores of youngsters sailed gaily down the naval chute and a real live Aunt Sally, with Leading Seaman Rennells deputising for that famous lady, proved an irresistible attraction. A Chinese Punch and Judy show always held an admiring audience.

Those for whom the lucky dip or the fairy well no longer held its first fresh charm were not forgotten. Keen interest was evinced in the exhibitions of Chinese boxing and fencing given by the St. Stephen's School branch of the Chin Woon Athletic Association in the Government House ballroom under the direction of Captain Warner. Golfers were much intrigued by the "tricky" nine hole miniature golf course laid out by Mr. George Duncan and tennis enthusiasts discovered deficiencies in their forward drive when, under the persuasion of "Mademoiselle Lenglen" (otherwise W. Forsyth jr.) they tested their prowess in a new tennis game.

The silhouette-gallery arranged by Mr. F. R. J. Adams had a good many people thinking. Sixteen silhouettes of prominent local personages were arranged on the wall and everybody who went in was invited to set down the names of the sitters on a card. Most of those accustomed to rubbing shoulders with the great were able to jot down a dozen names correctly at a glance but there were two or three of the silhouettes that required a great deal of puzzling over. The correct list is as follows:—

1. The Hon. Mr. E. V. Parr, 2. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, 3. Professor Middleton-Smith, 4. Mr. H. P. White, 5. Mr. J. R. Wood, 6. Mr. R. Sutherland, 7. Mr. P. J. Woodhouse, 8. the Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp, 9. H. E. the Officer Administering the Government, 10. Commodore Grace, 11. The Rev. H. Copley Moyle, 12. Mr. R. M. Dyer, 13. Mr. Eric Rice, 14. the Hon. Mr. B. R. Hallifax, 15. the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, 16. Mr. C. H. Thorne.

THE STALLS.

The familiar lines of the "Tamar" were recognised in the make-up of the Naval and Dockyard stall, and further local colour was lent by the appearance of the helpers in naval costume. There was an attractive deck cargo of fancy goods and needlework which appeared to be meeting with a very ready sale. Mrs. Grace was in charge and assisting her were: The Misses Grace, Mr. Allen, Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Bromwich, Mrs. Bickford, Mrs. Budden, Mrs. Church, Mrs. Cowen, Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Greig, Mrs. and Miss Lamerton, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Nott, Mrs. Penman, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Budden, Mrs. Sanders, and Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Humphrey, assisted by the wives of officers, warrant officers and N.C.O.s, and the children of the Garrison School, did brisk business at the Military Stall and lovers of the artistic in the way of bazaar bargains found themselves well catered for at the Peak Stall where Mrs. McArthur was in charge assisted by Mrs. Parr, Mrs. Raworth, Mrs. Grayburn, Mrs. Nichol, Mrs. H. W. Bird, Mrs. Ram, Mrs. N. L. Smith and Mrs. Murdoch. "My Lady's Toilet" was the style under which the Victoria Stall fringed in boudoir-requisites and nursery furniture. Here Mrs. Middleton-Smith had the help of Lady Brunyate, Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. Bannerman and Mrs. Bean. By the way why wasn't there a stall somewhere for the mere man? Superintending the sale of the good things offered at the Police Stall was Mrs. Wolfe who had the help of Mrs. Wodehouse, Mrs. King, Mrs. Burlingham, Mrs. Garrod, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Caygill and Miss Angus.

The Kowloon Dock community had a well stocked stall where a press of customers throughout the afternoon occupied the attention of Mrs. William Forsyth and her assistants: Mrs. Wylie, Mrs. Jolstone, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Groundwater, Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. Chitterton, Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Bell. Miss Forsyth and Miss Kinross had great success with a novelty stall under the lee of the big stall.

Another contribution from across the harbour was the Kowloon Candy Stall where home made confections found an enormously keen demand that was well ahead of the available supply. For this effort Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Garraway and Mrs. Shepherd were responsible.

A good show was made by the Colony's principal girls' schools. The St. Paul's Girls' School's plan of campaign was to accept a dollar and let the customers like their chance amongst a big variety of articles ranging in price from 35 cents to $25. Miss Woo was in charge and was assisted by Miss Kotewall, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Carr, Miss Gittins, Miss Alice Clarke, Miss Rathbone and the staff and girls of the school. Miss Taylor with the help of the staff and pupils dispensed a choice stock of dainty articles at the St. Stephen's Girls' College Stall and the efforts of the Bellio School's Toy Stall, under the direction of Miss Clarke also met with a considerable measure of success. Dr. Alice Hickling ran the Parcel Stall with the assistance of Mrs. Leigh, Mrs. Dovey and two members of the Victoria Nursing Association. At the Cigarette Table Mrs. Olliver, Miss Barnes and the Misses Olliver did a thriving trade.

THE TEA GARDEN.

It is safe to say that one of the most popular sections of the fete was the tea garden on the lawn in front of Government House where an untiring band of ladies dashed about with recuperating refreshments. Those who did the work here were:—

Organizer—Mrs. R. M. Dyer, assisted by Mrs. Hallifax and Miss Yelland.

Ten Making—Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. Bullock, Mrs. Girling, Mrs. Heanley, Mrs. Brotherton Baker, Miss Lowson and Mrs. Wright.

Cake Stand—Mrs. Digby, Mrs. Earle, Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. H. Matheson, Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Crawford Morgan, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Shell-brar.

Grimble, Mrs. Guin, Mrs. Hornell, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Hedley, Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. E. Howard, the Misses Hazeland, Miss Hickin, Miss Hickling, the Misses Irving, Mrs. Jenkins, Madame Kremer, Mrs. Leask, Mrs. H. A. Lamert, Miss Logan, Mrs. A. Mackenzie, Mrs. Murdoch, Miss MacLaren, Miss Martin, Miss McAuley, Miss Neave, Mrs. Orton, Mrs. Perry, the Misses Ram, Mrs. Raworth, Mrs. Redmond, Madame Rodonfuser, Miss Rodger, Mrs. Sayer, Miss Summerskill, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Shiner, Mrs. Tinson, Miss Yagell, Mrs. Williamson.

RAFFLES.

The following were the results of the principal raffles:—

Naval Stall—Blackwood table and chair, Capt. E. H. Bromwich (No. 20). $50 rifle, Mr. W. D. Leslie (No. 144).
Military Stall—Model yacht, No. 241.

Victoria Stall—Paris Hat, Mrs. Scott (No. 66).

THE COMMITTEE'S THANKS.

Although it is too early to make any definite statement as to the financial result of the Bazaar, it is confidently anticipated that the total receipts will constitute a record, and Mrs. Severn, the Acting President, and the Committee desire to take the earliest opportunity of expressing their sincere gratitude to all those, old and young, who have assisted in any way. In particular they wish to thank:—

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government for opening the Bazaar and for lending the grounds of Government House;

The Director of Public Works for advice, Mr. Staples of the P.W.D. for supervising the erection of stalls, and Messrs. See-Hop for erecting them at a nominal figure;

The Harbour Master and the ships of His Majesty's Navy for lending flags and decorations, Mr. S. P. Leigh and the staff of the Harbour Office for decorating the stalls and grounds, and the officers and men of H.M.S. "Tamar," especially Com. Spitt, Crocker, for erecting the model of H.M.S. "Tamar" for the Naval and Dockyard Stall and for organizing all the Naval side-shows;

The Captain Superintendent of Police and the Police under Inspector Marks for controlling the police arrangements in the grounds during the Bazaar and Inspector Angus for decorating the Police Stall and making the Brain Pie;

TANSAN

received the highest award

A GOLD MEDAL

from a committee of critical judges at the

Anglo-Japanese Exhibition

which testifies to its excellency and purity.

Beware of bogus imitations. No Tansan is genuine unless the label bears the name of
J. OLIFFORD-WILKINSON.

Unrivalled as a drink. Mixes well with Wine, Spirits or Milk.

Tansan raises the spirits and excites sanguine anticipation even as a flagon of wine exhilarated the monks of old.

For the good old friend of orders grey
Would have waited the flagon of wine away
And consoled himself as any man can
With bubbling, sparkling, cool Tansan.

Tansan can be obtained at all first class Hotels, Bars and Clubs

HOME ELECTION.

LONDON, November 4th.
A feature of Mr. Lloyd George's speech, at a demonstration in the London Opera House, at which Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead also spoke, was a strong plea for the creation of a centre party in the new Parliament. Mr. Lloyd George said: "You want a strong group of independent men, free from party ties and strong enough to insist on the Government steering a middle course, clear from the extremes of subversion and reaction."

He counselled his supporters that, wherever there was a pact they should abide by it loyally, and in constituencies where there was no pact, to support the candidate who was prepared to put country before party, and to resist alike fundamental changes and reaction.

Nominations closed to-day. Thirty-seven Conservatives, seven National Liberals, five Liberals, three Labourites and one Nationalist have been up to the present, returned unopposed; they included Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Douglas M. Hogg (Attorney-General), and Mr. W. G. A. Ombry Gore (Under Secretary for the Colonies).

The surprise nomination was that of the Irish Nationalist, Mr. Devlin, who was nominated for Liverpool, against the Conservative, Mr. Leslie Scott, K.C.

Mr. Bonny Law, speaking at Leeds, denied that the Government was hostile to Ireland; on the contrary, they wished success to the present rulers, who would find that their word was their bond.

He dwelt on the appalling difficulties of foreign policy and the success of the Near East Conference, on which peace in the Balkans and the prevention of indescribable horror depended. This would only be possible if co-operation with France and Italy were the root of our policy. He expressed confidence that the Unionists would have a big majority.

Proceeding, he said: "A capital levy would be madness in the present position of the country. He would be unable to send invitations to the proposed Imperial economic conference, which would only be a disaster. The Empire would be our best customer, and he hoped the conference would result not merely in greater co-operation, but also in greater trade. It would be found, as regards unemployment, that there were schemes ready to develop within the Empire, in which the Dominions would co-operate, and would not expect us to pay the whole price."

He had been bombarded with requests to make a promise that we would clear out of Mesopotamia and Palestine, but all he could say was that, he would examine the matter most carefully, but we were obliged to consider not merely what would pay, but to what extent we were bound by obligations. The Government would certainly try to give the League of Nations scope for more effective action.

Discussing the question of defence, Mr. Law referred to possibilities like air dangers, surpassing sea dangers. He therefore refused to make definite promises, for if we cannot restore the industrial position of the country, no amount of fighting force would save us from ruin.

EX-KAISER'S WEDDING.

DOORN, November 3rd.
An army of journalists, photographers and cinematographers are besieging Doorn Castle, where the finishing touches are being put on the preparations for the ex-Kaiser's wedding, which takes place to-morrow.

The civil ceremony will be conducted by the Burgomaster, in a room at the lodge, decorated with red tapestries. This will be followed by the religious ceremony, to be held in the vestibule of the castle, where a specially-built throne has been erected. The banquet will be held in the adjoining hall, strewn with red carpet, at which fifty guests, including the ex-Crown Prince, Prince Henry and other members of the Hohenzollern family will be present.

Princess Hermine's bridal dress will be of mauve velvet and chiffon, with the train adorned with Rhine stones and sequins. The ex-Kaiser will be attired in a guard's uniform.

The inhabitants of Doorn, disapproving of Sunday marriages, adhere to their refusal of the ex-Kaiser's request, to ring the village bells. The honeymoon will be spent at the Castle.

German Socialists are agitating for the prevention of the export of a costly diamond tiara, which the ex-Kaiser ordered in Berlin, as a present for the bride.

MARKS.

LONDON, November 3rd.
Marks were quoted at 28,000 to 29,000 to £1. The market was not excited at the drop, for the reason that the rate has ceased to function properly, and the smallest transactions are exaggerated in effect. Marks closed at about 29,000, and French francs at 84.

Stockbrokers are unable to cope with orders and are forced to close their offices. Prices continue to soar, principally on account of heavy buying on foreign account.

Herr Stinne's organs are already talking of the obvious failure of the reparations negotiations. Bankers attribute the fall of the mark to the action of buyers of marks abroad investing their holdings in German stocks, in preference to converting them into dollars and sterling.

BELGIUM'S THANKS.

BRUSSELS, November 4th.
A Ministerial Committee has been formed to consider plans for expressing thanks to Mr. Hoover, for the work of organising the feeding of residents in occupied Belgium during wartime.

The committee announces that a piece of sculpture, representing the Goddess Isis, veiled, will be presented to him, to be placed in the Leland Stanford University of California.

IMPENDING U.S.A. ELECTIONS.

WASHINGTON, November 3rd.
Speculation is rife regarding the results of the impending elections. It is generally agreed that the present unwieldy Republican majority in Congress will be materially reduced, likewise, that the reduced Republican majority will include elements dangerously subservient to party discipline, the tendency being to replace ultra-Conservatives by Liberals and Radicals.

WASHINGTON, November 3rd.
When speaking at Spokane, Senator Borah suggested that the time had arrived for a new alignment of the political forces. He declared that a political revolution was now going on among the people who were determined to have relief, and if the Republicans did not alter their economic policy, a third party, called the People's Party, will surely sweep the United States in 1924.

ANGORA'S DECREES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 3rd.
The decision of Angora relative to the Sultanate, has caused a political revolution among all aged minded Turks, as it is a blow at the deepest-rooted traditions of the Nation which, it is believed, is liable to damage the prestige of the Khalifat in the eyes of the entire Moslem world. It is felt that the extremists at Angora have carried the day, and Turks are asking themselves where their ruthless innovations will end.

The order for the expulsion of all Christians is also causing serious misgivings, as they are not only traders, but also artisans. Practically all skilled labour is supplied by Greeks and Armenians.

ALLAHABAD, November 4th.
Kamal Pasha's attitude towards the Sultan has undoubtedly created consternation in the Indian Caliphate Party. One Hindu newspaper asks whether it is new intended to send the proposed Indian Angora Legion to fight against Angora.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 3rd.
The Grand Vizier has informed the High Commissioners that the Constantinople Government has decided not to send a delegation to the Lausanne Conference.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 4th.
The Cabinet has resigned. Acting on instructions from Angora, Rafet Pasha, the Governor of Thrace, has assumed the Governorship of Constantinople, thus marking the first step in the Kemalist control of Constantinople.

INDIA.

BOMBAY, November 4th.
The sub-committee, which toured India to report on non-co-operation, have returned from their tour of the country. They report that the country is not prepared to embark on mass civil disobedience, but favours disobedience on a limited scale. They support the abandonment of the boycott on Legislatures, Governmental and Educational Institutions, and the Law Courts. The sub-committee are every divided regarding participation in Legislatures. Half favour capturing the Legislatures, with a view to obstructing and paralyzing the Government, while the remainder oppose the abandonment of the boycott, as this would involve a serious setback to the movement.

RUBBER RESTRICTION.

LONDON, November 2nd.
The Colonial Office notifies that Sir E. Birch, representing the Rubber Growers' Association of British Malaya; Mr. T. C. Owen, Ceylon Rubber Growers' Association; Mr. Eric Miller and Sir Edward Rossing, of the Rubber Growers' Association, and Lieut.-Colonel Seely, of the British Rubber Tyre Manufacturers' Association, have been nominated to serve for one year on the advisory committee proposed in the Stevenson committee's report. The Indian Rubber Manufacturers' Association have also been invited to nominate a representative. Sir Edward L. Brockman will serve as agent for the Malay States Information Agency. James Stevenson, Secretary, Chairman and Sir Gilbert Grindle, Vice-Chairman of the committee which will advise the Colonial Secretary on matters referred to it, but they will have no executive powers.

AUSTRALIAN SHIPBUILDING.

LONDON, November 4th.
In the course of a speech in London, Sir Joseph Cook, referring to the declaration that he would not build more ships for Australia, suggested that British shipbuilders should take their works to Australia, and there build the ships Australia wanted.

Mr. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia, while denying that the Federal Government is negotiating for the sale of Cockatoo Island Dockyard, admits that two offers have been received, of which that of Mr. Albert Green, member for Derby of the British House of Commons, of £1,500,000, on behalf of an English combination, is the better.

BABOON IN BABYLON.

NEW YORK, November 4th.
Search parties are hunting for a big baboon in the vicinity of the fashionable suburb of Babylon, Long Island. The animal was first seen peering from the windows of an abandoned house. He has attacked a boy and terrorised other residents, and is believed to have been brought ashore from a rum smuggling ship.

SAMOS.

AGORA, November 4th.
An insurrectionary movement has broken out in the island of Samos, the population demanding a return to the former autonomous regime, under the protection of the League of Nations.

NERVE STORMS.

Lightning is not more cruel than the person who suffers from nerve-storms. Though the victim is often accused of being "bad-tempered," the trouble is really one of health. Bad days usually begin with irritation on rising. Some little up of, arouses a cantankerous mood, and once the balance topples all control is lost.

Nerve-storms are dangerous; the wear and tear on the nervous system is highly exhausting and debilitating to the digestion and heart; it causes also constipation in the liver and brain; and, if, indeed, collapses sometimes follows.

Make no mistake—nerve-storms indicate a nervous-dyspeptic state. When the digestion is perfect, the appetite is good, and food eaten keeps the nerves and blood well fed. Then such good health pervades the system that nervous disturbance is rare.

Weak, irritable, nervous victims of indigestion should, first, put their nerves and strengthen their digestion with new blood. To make this new blood it is necessary to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for these pills create new blood that makes you feel fit from tip to toe. You will be delighted with the new appetite, energy and radiant good health that follow.

Chemists everywhere sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Broadway, New York, U.S.A. $1.50 for one bottle, 8/- for six bottles, post free.

INTERPORT TRIAL.

Hongkong's interport team, eight players of which had already been chosen, was completed after Saturday's trial match, when the three remaining places were offered by the Selection Committee to R. E. A. Webster, Rev. E. Quick and B. D. Evans.

The full team is now as follows.—R. Hancock (Captain), T. E. Pearce, Capt. Davies, Captain Oliver, E. B. Reed, L. J. Davies, G. R. Sayer, C. I. Stapleton, R. E. O. Webster, Rev. E. Quick and B. D. Evans.

Hongkong will have nothing to fear from Shanghai in regard to batting strength, as every man in the team is a sound batsman, capable of putting up a good score. In the bowling department, as had been evident throughout the trial matches, Hongkong will be somewhat handicapped. Webster, Quick and Evans are fairly good bowlers, but it is feared that they would not be able to master the Shanghai batsmen on a good wicket. If the visitors are fortunate enough to get the first knock, they will run up a big score, and it would mean strenuous uphill work for the Hongkong players if they hope to win. On the whole, however, the Hongkong team is a useful one and should give Shanghai a good tussle whatever happens.

Saturday's teams were captured by T. E. Pearce and R. H. Hancock, respectively. It was an odd day for the batsmen and some big scores were made. Pearce's team scored 211 for six wickets, of which the best contributions were Pearce 53, Oliver 40 and Stapleton 30. Other useful double figures scores were Matthews 26, Wood 19 and Spinks 14. Webster was the best bowler with two wickets for 23 runs.

Hancock's team replied with 102 for two wickets, before time intervened, a very excellent performance. Webster and de Rome batted soundly and scored 37 and 34 respectively. Evans added a useful 15. It was a very successful day for Webster, who was in great form in both departments. Spinks and Dede took one wicket each for 14 and 16 runs respectively.

THE SHANGHAI TEAM.

The Shanghai Interport team to visit Hongkong has now been definitely selected, and will consist of—G. B. Billings (captain), H. B. Ollerdesen, A. N. Hayward, M. J. Divecha, D. W. Leach, S. J. Deeks, Lieut. D. W. Lees, W. C. G. Clifford, Rev. C. E. Spencer, Dr. W. E. O'Hara and T. W. R. Wilson, with C. E. Ollerdesen as twelfth man.

It is a good all-round team and fairly well representative of Shanghai's best talent. In Ollerdesen, Hayward, Leach, Clifford, Spencer, Lees and Divecha, the Settlement has sound batsmen; and in Dr. O'Hara, Billings, Leach, Wilson, Divecha, C. E. Ollerdesen and Clifford, four really good bowlers, and three always useful should the others fail.

Deeks is keeping wicket as well as over, and has a stubborn defence in batting, while Spencer is also quite useful behind the stumps, if a reserve wicket-keeper should have to be called for.

The team arrived by the R. M. S. "Empress of Canada" and is due back in Shanghai, by the same vessel, on the 13th instant.

According to the programme arranged in Hongkong the Interport match will be played on Friday, Saturday and Monday, the 10th, 11th and 12th instant; a match against the United Services on the 14th and 15th; and one against Kowloon on the 16th. The Shanghai Cricket Club has telegraphed suggesting that the Kowloon match be played on Wednesday, the 18th, thus fitting in better on with steamer sailings.

INTERPORTERS V. THE REST.

The Shanghai interport team was put to a severe test in a trial match against a strong combination drawn from the rest of the Settlement on Saturday, October 28 and gave a very good account of itself. A glance at the scores below will give some idea of the Northerners' all-round form.
